To Mr. Guy Shellenbarger, who has been our principal for many years, we, the students of Marshfield Senior High, dedicate this, the 1957 Mahiscan. Mr. Shellenbarger has seen our student body grow in number and our buildings grow in size; but whether we be six hundred or twelve hundred, his capable guidance has directed us to think and act as one in doing only that which is best for our school. As we become adults, we will realize even more fully that we have been made better people because of the training given us by our true friend, Mr. Shellenbarger.

All of us treasure different memories—the grand march at the prom, the “one” in problems, the first day of school, the opening kickoff, the Sadie, a certain talent show, the last long march to “Pomp and Circumstance.” Usually we most highly treasure the golden moments that took the most “digging.” We hope this MAHISCAN of 1956-57 will depict why we Pirates cherish Marshfield Senior High School.

Math . . . . Science . . . .

With all the publicity concerning our nation's lagging toward the scientists and engineers the math and science classes have been more popular than ever. Vocations in math and science have been stressed increasingly with a special emphasis upon nuclear physics and chemistry. Sometimes when those terrible odors began to drift through the halls, we wished that our modern society placed more emphasis on perfume.

Even though many of us do not plan to continue our higher education, we have found that we can make an excellent living by making a good trade or career choice right here at Marquette High. With our well equipped shops and business education facilities, we are able to get an education with the same intensity as those of any vocational school. We were FRESHMEN and were about to plunge into something strange and new. Though uncertain of what lay ahead, we stepped off and discovered Marshfield Senior High. Here is how it all began

We are the first freshman class ever to enter Marshfield High. We had our first get-together at the Frosh Mixer, sponsored by the Student Council. We then entered what we thought was the best float in the North Bend Football Parade and introduced our dramatic skill in the first talent show of the year.

In 1955, our class was awarded (and quite easily) class treasury, we took part in a football game and pep assembly, and held other interesting projects in the spring.

At the end of our year we were academically high with many trophies on the honor roll each term. Our officers and advisers did as well in putting our best foot forward in our first year at Marshfield High.

Sophomores . . . .

Our sophomore class certainly did not mean to create a sensation in the halls of Marshfield High School, but our skunk sale proved so popular that even Elvis Presley was forgotten for a few hours.

Before the last hour was over a little white and black chicken skunk was perched on almost every student's shoulder. Our class continued to show its generosity by offering the class treasury through cake, bottle and coat hanger collections.

Juniors . . . .

The junior year found the Class of '38 thrust in the limelight. The prom theme "Masquerade," our talents did not remain hidden. Sometimes it seemed as though there were not enough hours in the day to get everything finished, but somehow we managed to get the balloons blown, the decorations decorated, and invitations issued, regardless of the dire predictions of the seniors.

After much debate concerning using and a few nervous systems, not to mention gnawed fingernails, we finally selected red, black and white as our basic colors, built a huge mask, served punch, and blew balloons for the ceiling in a modernistic interpretation of the Halloween theme.

On the heels of the masquerade came a request for a float for the North Bend rally and at the cost of a few hairs from Mr. Burch's head, we created one of the top of the line parade floats.

After the early rush of activities, our lives ran a little more smoothly as we earned money for projects by popcorn concessions at all football games, one basketball concession, a mid-year car wash, and a spring rummage sale; and we took a little thing like the January talent show in our stride.

Busy as we were at the beginning of the year, we were not so busy at the year ended. We honored the seniors at the traditional Junior-Senior Dessert; and, determined to carry on the traditions set by preceding classes, we decorated for graduation and baccalaureate services and prepared for the year ahead.

Let  $\gamma$  be a path

The first step in the process of the system is to determine the user's requirements. This is done by interviewing the user and analyzing the results.

Junior Activities . . . .

The first condition is that  $\mathbf{A} \in \mathbb{R}^{n \times n}$  is symmetric and positive definite. Let  $\mathbf{K} = \frac{1}{2} \mathbf{A} \mathbf{v} \mathbf{v}^T$ .

We are SENIORS at last. We have studied hard, sighted our goals and have learned how to attain those goals. Now we are ready to put that knowledg to use . . . . .

Leibel, P Tankersley, J Amsbury, G Scott, D Gervais, D Morris, D Vaughan, D Cardwell

Seniors . . . . .

What was it, this miracle of fusing more than 200 young minds, prideful hearts, diverse loyalties into such a unity? It was a carnival with all the gaudiness and glory of the real thing. Of course, there were the concessions—cokes and all the rest in the icy air of football season and the exciting murmur and heat of basketball with ivy—our Junior Prom. It was an unprecedented student directory, the formality of the Junior Senior Dessert the rummage sale, and the excitement of Homecoming weekend. It was the joy of the talent shows with all the corn, sophistication, and youthful talent. It was the elegance of a Senior Ball. Finally, we were one, only to be thrust apart. We will graduate, we will travel once again our solitary paths. They will lead us to many places far away, some not far from the front steps of our alma mater; but none of our paths will ever lead us into the

Senior Activities . . . . .

"Mousketeers" Barry Board, Clay Smith, Jim Kelly, Gary Smith, and Dale Cardwell sing theme song for senior talent show. (A closer look reveals mouse ears).

Mr. Sheffer's remarks surprised Roberta heavily and knew that the secret was Vieditoran and Santa Roma respectively.

Whether freshman or senior, leader or follower, we are all part of a great body—the Marshfield Senior High STUDENT BODY. Whatever be our differences, we all have a common allegiance to our school and a sense of pride for its accomplishments . . .

Dennis Valley SB President Betty Bradford and Kate Johnson work on reviving the Student Council.

Career Day . . . .

On November 29 every student at MHS was offered three chances to acquire inside information about his future. In the afternoon, the Career Day program was held.

A freshman and senior evaluation was taken to determine if students considered this program an aid in future decisions and whether or not Career Day should be held annually.

Representatives under the direction of William T. McLean tallied the returns, which brought a positive "yes."

IRL . . . .

As the new year rolled around, International Relations League became Marshfield's newest activity addition.

This thirty member social studies club, directed by William T. McLean, has been assigned by the International Headquarters to study the labor problems of Gold Coast, Ethiopia, and Nigeria and to present its findings at the United Nations at the University of Oregon.

Mahiscan . . . .

To make the Mahiscan representative of the 1956-57 school year at Marshfield was the aim of the annual staff this year. Under the editorship of Kary Finell and Venessa Elizarras, the annual underwent a number of changes. Chief innovation was the adoption of a new printing process, lithography, making greater use of school photography possible. The art department also contributed to the annual by holding a cover-designing contest, won by Marcia Houston.

For the first time in many years, the Mahiscan included advertising to help underwrite the cost of these changes and to reduce the cost per copy to the students.

Because of the increased size of both the annual and the student body, the staff indexed material to make it more easily available.

Assisting in the production of the annual were Meyers and Company, The News Press, and the Camera Shop.

Mahiter . . . .

The Mahiter, for two years a rather expensive prophetic new student creation with a literary slant, appeared this year as a supplement page to the Ma-Hi Times. The editorial board and adviser, Eleanor Baker, have hopes that the page will some day develop into a literary magazine.

Designed to give students an opportunity to exercise their creative writing ability and see their efforts printed, the Mahiter was published on two occasions, once in late fall and again in early spring.

Editor Percy McDonald maps plans for the next issue with Mrs. Baker Library, Cafeteria, Office Staff . . . .

Many of the school's personnel are called upon to serve the school in these unnoticed but extremely important tasks such as cafeteria helpers, office staff, and library aides.

Directed by Mr. Richard Wilkes, cafeteria supervisor; Miss Janet Strachan, librarian; and Mrs. James Hickey and Mrs. Morrie Crowe, secretaries, the students have helped make Marshfield Senior High School as efficient and smooth-running as possible.

Band . . . .

A good time is had by all at any high school. Performing in school and basketball games captures the interest of members during the fall and winter months.

This year the Band attended the big football play-off game in Portland with its new director, Ray Risco. "South of the Border," a half-time offering, was well received by the spectators.

On March 8 the Band presented its own Spring Concert and on May 11 attended the District Band Festival in ... the fun.

Drama . . . .

The Drama League for this year was recognized as an amazing increase in male enrollment, which made possible a more widely varied selection of plays, operas, etc. Recognized by their director, Mr. Love, the dramatics performed several benefit plays during lunch periods, charging ten cents admission to cover production costs. Mr. Love has introduced classes in make-up and directing. Besides these theatrical phases, larger projects are planned for next year.

I wrote on 11/14/44 to Dennis Todd, his letter on 1/1/45 and Alie Bradley and the letter on 1/1/45 on the 1/1/45.

Thespians . . . .

At the beginning of the Middle Ages, the theater was a religious activity. A church group would perform a play to celebrate the birth of Jesus. These plays were called "mystery plays" and were performed in the church or in a nearby town square.

Over the years, the church group grew into a professional troupe. Now, actors perform in theaters, and the plays are called "dramas." The first professional troupe was the "Swanwick" troupe, which performed in the 15th century.

The first plays were performed in the North-west of England. These were called "mystery plays" and were performed in the church or in a nearby town square. The first professional troupe was the "Swanwick" troupe, which performed in the 15th century.

The first plays of the modern era were performed in the 17th century. These were called "dramas" and were performed in theaters. The first professional troupe was the "Swanwick" troupe, which performed in the 15th century.

Stagecraft . . . .

A stagecraft is a set of techniques used to create a theatrical production. It includes the design and construction of the stage, the lighting, the sound, and the costumes. The first stagecraft was the "Swanwick" stagecraft, which was used in the 15th century.

Spanish Club . . . .

Los Angeles Marsh and its Spanish speaking organizers had a full 1968 schedule of Latin American activities. November started a correspondence between members of Los Angeles and many Mexican students.

To get better acquainted with Spanish customs, the M.S. club played host in North Bend in December at a Christmas Fiesta. Members sang, danced, broke the Sopa Pirata and ate Mexican wedding cakes all in Spanish style.

February 1890, Los Cárneges aboard a Spanish ship to see the ways of the Spanish seamen. They were told some of the more exciting adventures of the sailors.

JV Football . . . .

JV FOOTBALL

Marshfield's JV football squad, coached by Bruce Hoffine, Walt McClure, and Wayne Fox, is made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores. Its nearly perfect record was marred by only one tie. The squad downed the Coquille JV's in the first two games of the season, 28-0 and 20-0. Next they dumped the North Bend Bulls 21-0, and finally tied Myrtle Point, 6-6. The JV's finished their undefeated season by outmaneuvering the Bullpups again, 18-2.

This year a freshman team was formed to give the younger players a chance to participate in more games and to give them as much experience as possible. These future varsity players ended the season with an even .500 average by losing to the North Bend freshmen, 7-13, and then returning to defeat them, 19-7.

Varsity Basketball . . . .

After a slow start because of the lengthened football season, the Marshfield basketball team overcame great odds to gain a berth in the state finals. Perhaps the most thrilling moments in recent Marshfield history, the team proved a giant killer by defeating Eugene and Benson once and by overcoming an eight point deficit against North Bend with only a few minutes left to go.

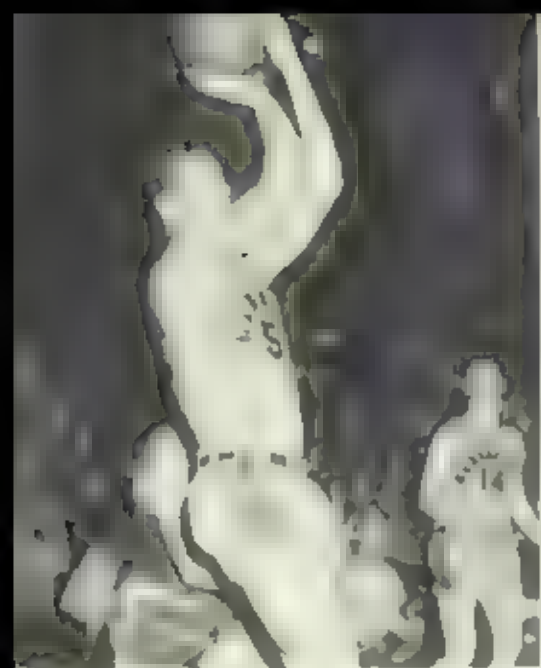

Ending the up and down season in a tie for second place, the Piratemens, coached by Bruce Hottine, were forced into a playoff with North Bend in the Marshfield round. Defeat seemed inevitable to Pirate supporters in the packed gym as Marshfield trailed most of the game. The impact of the intrepid Ma Fi explosion in the final moments was sufficient to carry the Pirates into an overtime victory and to the state tournament.

Continuing their giant killing tactics, the Pirates pulled the major upset of the state tournament by defeating the tall Peoria and Kanawha Falls sides. However, the team was unable to sustain its drive and lost the two following games to North Salem 53-42 and Tionson 52-37.

Wrestling . . . .

The 1955 wrestling team was the largest to be organized at Marshfield. Of the twenty-seven members, twelve were freshmen, three were sophomores, five were juniors, and three were seniors. After placing third in the Eastern Oregon County Meet, Carl Hilski's wrestlers went to the state tournament, where sophomore Roy Sinclair received fourth place in his weight division. Besides developing personal physical coordination, agility, balance and muscular growth, wrestling teaches them self-control, self-defense, self-control and team work.

Golf . . . .

Coach Wayne Fox's golf club braved Oregon's usual liquid sunshine to compete in matches at Eugene, Albany, Medford and Roseburg. In an enviable position with all of last year's lettermen returning, Coach Fox leaned heavily on George Backman, Larry Bick, John Forrester, Eugene Johnson, and Jon Peterson, who had placed eighth in state the previous year and second in the district.

Golf Club is open to all boys who can furnish their own clubs and join the Coos Country Club, since all practices are held every night after school on the private course.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATING SENIORS OF MARSHFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

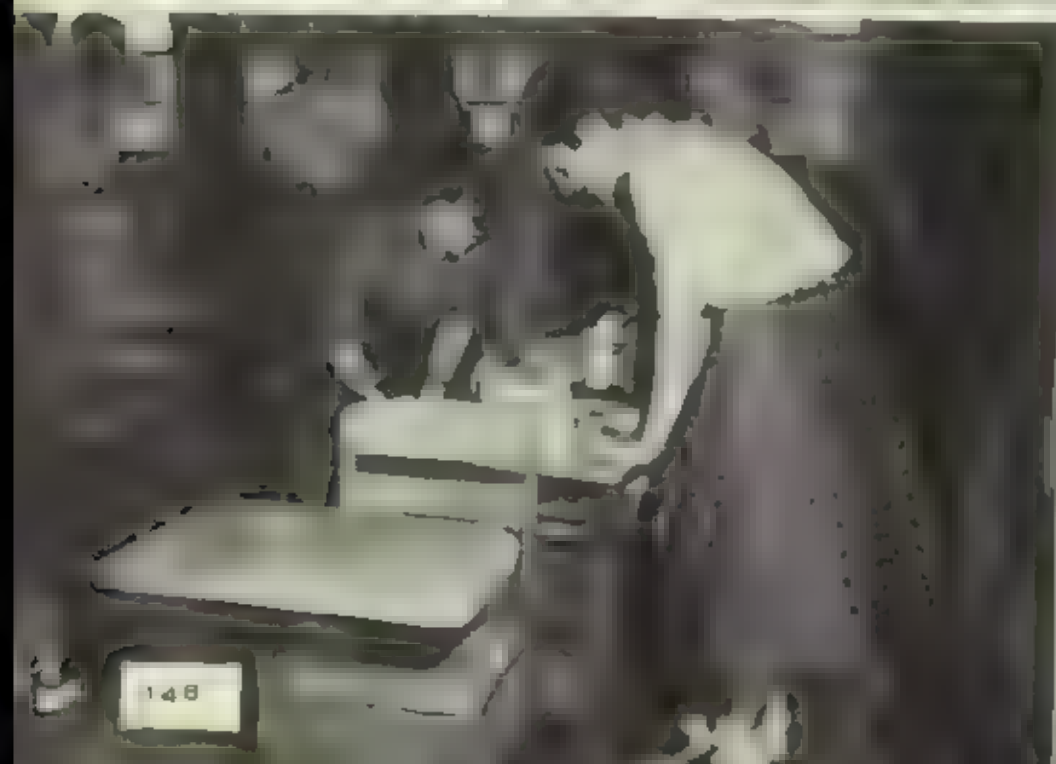

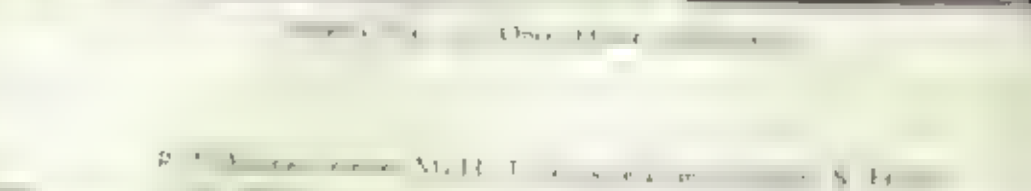

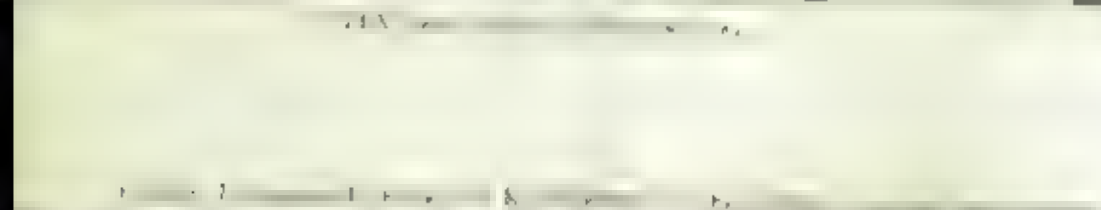

The MAHISCAN staff wishes to thank the student body, faculty, and community, without whose help this annual would not be possible. We have tried to make this annual a reflection of the year 1956-57 at Marshfield High School. If we have been successful, this success was possible because Marshfield High School is more than an institution; it is a mold of youth, a place cherished by all who call Marshfield their school.

While the services were ensuing themselves at Frances & Nate Park the church staff was desperately trying to raise the money. Even now Alex had to suffer the sight of a beggar.

Dear Evelyn,
 Its been loads of fun knowing you
 even in the forth grade
 (Remember?) I hope you have loads of fun all through high school and always. Best of luck to a real swell girl.
